

Victoria College Y12 Art Exhibition

Over the last few months Victoria College Jersey's Sixth Form Year 12 has been exploring an array of topics and cultures surrounding the theme of migration. After choosing a certain topic and community of migrants we built up an array of small studies from different mediums surrounding our themes, developing them as we progressed. After producing a collection of work and research, gaining a wider range of knowledge around our themes, we developed a large canvas piece using a range of references and techniques, completed over an extended period, to epitomise our topic. Which can now be found in this here surrounded by some supporting studies.

This art exhibition explores the multifaceted experiences and impacts of migration through various artistic mediums such as paintings, drawing and spray painting. The exhibition delves into themes like displacement, identity, belonging, and the challenges and hopes associated with a migrant journey. It features work exploring people from diverse backgrounds, providing personal and collective narratives that highlight the emotional and cultural dimensions of migration. Through these creative expressions, the exhibition aims to demonstrate empathy, understanding, and short pieces of personal dialogue about the complexities of migration, that has been individually explored, in a globalized world.
